Assessment for Learning Skills and Differentiation Strategies for English Teachers (Online)

This programme helps English Teachers to support progress of all students in the English classroom by looking at Assessment for Learning and differentiation strategies in practice.

Who this is for:
Teachers

Delivery method:
Online

This programme was developed for English Teachers to help them implement effective Assessment for Learning in their classrooms and then use learning data to differentiate instruction depending on student needs. Teachers who attend this programme will receive support and feedback in their application of skills learnt through an online Community of Practice to ensure that teachers continue to learn from the programme and from each other.
