Supporting Remedial English Students in Primary Schools (Online)

Learning Loss due to the impact of Covid-19 is the most significant challenge of our times in education. This programme gives the tools, techniques, and strategies for primary English teachers to diagnose their students' specific learning challenges, and to then support student progress through structured learning pathways.

Who this is for:
Teachers

Delivery method:
Online

This programme was developed for English Teachers to bridge the literacy and proficiency gap in the English classroom. Unlike other subjects, remedial English students are not given support out of the classroom, so teachers need specific skills and tools to ensure that ALL students in their classroom are learning, and not just those who are able to keep up with the curriculum. Using a range of diagnostic tools and pedagogical strategies, this programme helps teachers to identify the root cause of their students' learning challenges, and then plan to address them.
